RACING CARS CAUSE AN ACCIDENT ON STATE ROAD

An auto accident on the Davis county road last night resulted in a broken arm to Norman Millon, a Frenchman of Ogden, and the demolishing of the automobile belonging to F. J. Newman.

Mr. Newman, who uses his machine for rent purposes, was taking Millon and two other men to Salt Lake. About two miles south of Kayville, two cars approached from the south, apparently racing. Newman pulled up at the side of the road for them to pass, but one of the autos crashed into his machine.

A woman was driving the racing car, although she had men companions. It also developed that a woman was driving the other racing car. Millon, who was in the rear seat, got the force of the collision. The third car—the one which was uninjured—continued on to the north. The machine which caused the damage to Newman's auto received a smashed wheel and other damage.

Mr. Newman says the driver is an Ogden woman, but the car she was in belongs to a man named Thomas Davis, of the Newhouse hotel. The third car in the affair, while racing through Farmington, had the number taken by the officers there.

Millon was extricated from the wreck and rushed to Ogden, where his injuries were dressed. The sheriff's office was notified of the accident, and an investigation is on foot to place the blame for the accident.

AUTOS COLLIDE AND A BABY IS THROWN OUT OF A CAR

A miraculous escape from injury and possible death was the experience of a year-old baby belonging to Andrew Hutchinson of Wellsville, Utah, last night about 6 o'clock, on the North Ogden road, when the child was thrown from one auto into another in a collision.

A car driven by Antonio Anderson from Thatcher, Idaho, collided with the Hutchinson machine, throwing the occupants of both out. The baby was thrown by the impact completely over the one car into the other.

The accident occurred just outside the city limits. The car driven by Anderson was southbound. Hutchinson, who had left Ogden but a short time before, was driving north. As the two got within passing distance, a buggy came between them and in avoiding hitting the rig the cars collided. The Anderson machine struck the other one broadside, smashing the wheels and damaging the engine so that it will require extensive repairs.

Anderson's car was also damaged but not to such an extent as was Hutchinson's.

When the impact came, the occupants of both cars were thrown out. There were two babies in arms in the Hutchinson machine, and the other car contained several occupants. None received injuries other than a severe shaking up and several bruises. Dr. Henry W. Nelson was called and attended these minor injuries.

Deputy Sheriff William Brown was soon on the scene. He took the drivers of the two cars into custody and they were placed under $25 bond, until an investigation was made as to the responsibility for the damage.

Examination of the cars found a quantity of beer in the Hutchinson machine, which he had evidently obtained in Ogden. He was placed under $100 for carrying liquor into dry territory. The other occupants of the Hutchinson machine went on to Wellsville in another car.

Milkmen of Ogden and vicinity, who are seeking a reduction of the license charges of the municipality, presented a petition to the city commission this morning, stating that they considered that $750 per year would be a reasonable tax per wagon when thirty gallons or less were handled by a milkman and that $10 would be a reasonable sum if the amount exceeded thirty gallons per day.

The subject was referred to Mayor Heywood, as the head of the city's financial department. The milk dealers have been raising considerable objection to the present sliding scale of license fees for dairies, saying that it is out of proportion to their profit.

NORTH OGDEN HAS A CELEBRATION

NORTH OGDEN, July 25.—Pioneer day, coming as it did in North Ogden in the midst of an extremely busy season when scores of tons of cherries are ready for the pickers and when their hastening ripening has been taxing every avenue of help to the utmost, the laying aside of every other interest to make the celebration a success has certainly required no little effort upon the part of the people. The celebration was the biggest and best ever held here.

The parade was under the direction of James Alma Bailey, with Leroy Snooks and Hyrum S. Montgomery as aides. At the end of the parade, the throngs on the grounds filled the large chapel to overflowing. The decorations were unique, tasty, profuse and appropriate. Seated on the stand beside the veteran pioneers as the real center of attraction was Alma Montgomery, the first white child born in North Ogden, now living here, although a pair of twins, Benona Campbell and Mary Campbell Gerrard, living in other parts of the state, preceded his advent sixteen days.

The services were conducted by John Q. Blaylock and the program was carried out in the following order:

Music by the band.
Song, "O, Ye Mountains High," by the congregation, conducted by Charles W. Ellis.
Prayer by the chaplain, David E. Randall.

Song, "Come, Come, Ye Saints," by the pioneers, led by Frederick W. Ellis.

Comic reading by Miss Fuller.
Solo by Nephil J. Brown.
Oration by David J. Wilson.

Quartet by Gilbert Randall, Arizona Marshall, Clyde Campbell and Arlie Campbell.

Clippings from the North Ogden Bugler by James J. Cude.
Recitation by Nathella Shupe.
Music by the band.

SHERIFF IS TO HAVE CHARGE OF THE DRAFTED MEN

Sheriff Herbert L. Peterson will be in direct charge of the men drafted in Weber county under the new army law. After a young man has passed the physical examination and has not shown reason for exemption, according to the rules announced by the adjutant general, he will report to the sheriff and will be furnished board and lodging.

Later the entire quota will be assembled in Salt Lake, to be turned over to the commanding officer at Fort Douglas, who will make final disposition under army orders. If the entire quota of any county is not supplied from the first list, summoned, because of exemptions, others will be called until the total is secured.

MOUNTAIN SHEEP ON CLIFFS BACK OF PINEVIEW

For the first time in many years, a Rocky Mountain sheep appeared near Ogden when one of the wary, wiry animals was seen by hundreds of people as it posed on the cliffs back of Wilcox canyon and hotel in Ogden canyon yesterday afternoon.

The animal appeared to take an interest in the crowds that assembled to see him and even approached within 300 feet of some of the bystanders. He would continue his approach until some person in the crowd moved, as though to make a flank or rear attack on him, and he would bound away only to return later.

As deer and bears are frequently seen in the mountains near Ogden, the addition of the Rocky Mountain sheep brings the list of game animals to practically the complete roll of the best known mountain creatures.

The most unique and impressive celebration of Pioneer day in Weber county was that at Huntsville yesterday afternoon when the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Wright, pioneer educators of Utah were buried side by side, after having been buried in cemeteries hundreds of miles apart. Bishop Joseph Peterson presided. Two selections were given by the Huntsville choir. "High on the Mountain Tops," and "When First the Glorious Light Appeared." William Block, assisted by Maggie Johansen at the piano, gave a violin solo and Adam Peterson sang "All Through the Night."

The speakers were Joseph Peterson, Alma Peterson, Adam Peterson and Patriarch David McKay. The interment of the bodies was in the Huntsville cemetery where Patriarch McKay dedicated the graves. Many Ogden people as well as residents from other cities in Utah and Idaho attended the ceremonies.

LIBEL SUIT HAS BEEN APPEALED

William J. Lynch, who charged the Ogden Standard with libel in connection with articles published about the state land board, has appealed his suit in the district court, having won the supreme court from Judge Agee's decision. Lynch's suit was directed against the Standard Publishing company, Frank A. Francis and Roscoe C. Glammann. Judge Agee found in favor of the defendants, giving his decision on June 26, 1917.

EYE CUT IN FIGHT AT LAGOON RESORT

In a fight at Lagoon between a Layton man, whose name has not been ascertained and a man named Sparr, a railroad fireman of Ogden, the man from Layton was so severely cut in the eye that it is feared the sight will be lost. The cutting was done with a broken bottle.

According to witnesses, the two men were in the old bar at the resort when an altercation arose. Words led to a fight. Suddenly Sparr seized a broken whiskey bottle and hurled it into the face of the other man. Striking him slightly above the eye, the man's face and forehead was laid open until the eyeball was exposed.

Sparr was looking for trouble in Ogden yesterday before going to Lagoon. Tom Turner, proprietor of Turner's Smoke house, on the corner of Hudson and Twenty-fifth, had to threaten to beat him up. He was also in a row on lower Twenty-fifth street the day before.

LIBERTY PARK SCENE OF PIONEER DAY CELEBRATION

Never in the history of Pioneer day in Ogden was the event so successfully observed as at Liberty park yesterday.

Long before the time for the commencement of the program, people from all parts of the city and county assembled to do honor to the men and women who were so instrumental in making the great state of Utah what it is today.

The splendid program arranged commenced at 11 o'clock with an address of welcome by Bishop Olsen. This was followed by an excellent program of musical numbers, consisting of a solo by Mildred Ware, a solo by W. S. Wright, a selection by the Winnie Hutchinson string quartet and several numbers by the Ninth ward male quartet.

All these numbers were finely presented and were greatly appreciated by the large audience.

At the conclusion of the musical part of the entertainment, Hon. Charles R. Mabey delivered the address of the day. He took as his subject "Patriotism," showing in his remarks how men and women in every place in the world's history have been benefited by loyalty to God and country. The patriotism of Mr. Mabey was of the genuine kind that all true Americans have and never in the experience of our gray-haired pioneers was the spirit of patriotism so successfully and beautifully brought out as by the captain in his very able address.

Mr. Mabey's talk was a gem and will long be remembered by the large audience.

After the program and during the entire day, sports and games were held for the children, who were present in great numbers.

The ball game was won by the Fourth ward, after a hard-fought contest.

The races were very successful and greatly pleased the boys and girls.

The celebration ended at 7:30 in the evening, when some of Ogden's best wrestlers competed. The match between Brig Harbortson and Chester Sharer was one of the best ever seen in the city. It was declared a draw. Both of the men were in the best of condition. The other wrestlers who competed were Harold Morrison and Clarence Saunders, who put up a great exhibition. Jack Harbortson was also present and took on four wrestlers in an exhibition match. These contests were all very close decisions, and greatly interested the pioneers and other spectators.

BEN TERNES SUFFERS AN ATTACK OF APOPLEXY

Suffering from an attack of apoplexy, Ben Ternes, secretary and treasurer of the Barker Mining company, has been taken to the Dee hospital. Mr. Ternes has offices in the Commercial National bank building.

When Attorney T. R. O'Connell, who has offices in the building, came to work this morning, he noticed that Mr. Ternes was acting queerly. When he talked to the man, Ternes seemed to be deranged.

Mr. O'Connell telephoned to Dr. Conroy. On examination, it was found Mr. Ternes had had an attack of apoplexy, caused by a cerebral hemorrhage. His two sons, one working in an Ogden garage and the other in Salt Lake, were notified and on their arrival the afflicted man was sent to the Dee hospital.

Bayonets were freely used, and everyone who took part in the engagement had to wear a gas-mask. The Germans finally retired, leaving many dead on the bloody field.

CROWN PRINCE ASSAULTS FAIL

Furious Attacks Along Chemin-Des-Dames Sector End in Death and Failure.

REGIMENT LEADS Germans Lose Footing Everywhere—Artillery Lights Up Whole Terrain.

ON THE FRENCH FRONT, Tuesday, July 24.—The furious attack of the Germans along the Chemin-Des-Dames sector on the Aisne front has brought them nothing but death and the failure of all their plans to obtain possession of the ridge and the observation places.

At daybreak today the French launched a counter-attack with such vigor that they turned the Germans out of the few hundred yards of trenches they had succeeded in occupying in the first onset and sent them rushing back to their old lines. The famous One Hundred Fifty-second regiment led the attack.

The California plateau was the scene of the most furious fighting. The Germans, who had gained a footing there, were driven out everywhere except at one small point, which is of no importance.

On the Casemates plateau the result was similar. At almost every point the French compelled the retirement of the Germans. Subsequently the Germans tried once more to gain in vain to drive out the French.

The artillery tonight is at work most vigorously. The front line is almost as light as day from the flashes of shells.
